FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

East County Transitional Living Center to host Homeless Court Feb. 28

Event is free and open to the public

EL CAJON, CA - East County Transitional Living Center, a nonprofit organization providing emergency housing and job training to combat homelessness, will host a Homeless Court community pop-up resource fair from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Feb. 28 at the center's headquarters, 1527 E. Main St. in El Cajón.

The free event will let attendees:

- Clear warrants through the San Diego Homeless Court program.
- Enroll in public assistance benefits and housing negotiation through the San Diego County Office of Homeless Solutions and Equitable Communities.
- Print official San Diego birth documents through the San Diego County Recorder/Assessor's Office.
- Initiate detox and substance use treatment programs through Acadia Healthcare, the East County Transitional Living Center and other agencies.
- Seek legal advice on benefits, housing, bankruptcy and general restraining orders from the Legal Aid Society of San Diego.
- Receive potential child support debt relief and driver's license release from the San Diego County Department of Child Support Services

These pop-up resource fairs rotate throughout San Diego County to offer information and guidance to help attendees clear legal barriers and receive services. These fairs also let attendees meet with Homeless Court Program officials without needing referrals.

Attorneys, including public defenders, will be on site to guide and counsel attendees.

Visit homelesscourt.org for information.

“We invite the public to use our network to build theirs. Come learn about the valuable resources available to those in need,” said Dr. Julie Hayden, executive director for East County Transitional Living Center.

For 19-plus years, the ECTLC has changed the lives of hundreds of homeless men, women, and children through structured programs, individualized case management and compassionate care.
